

Make a New Year's resolution!

Take fewer risks
on software projects

An Invitation to the Agena Masterclass on Reducing Software Project Risk

- Discover the principles and techniques for improved decision-making on software projects
- Learn from the findings of a major research program run in conjunction with Philips and QinetiQ
- Observe a demonstration of software project risk management in action, using the latest tools and techniques from Agena

Choose from:

Live Webcast

Wednesday 12 January 2005

2.00 pm to 3.30 pm (GMT)

Seminar

Friday 14 January 2005

10.00 am to 1.00 pm

Central London

To register, please visit

www.agena.co.uk/masterclass

The Masterclass is run by Professor Norman Fenton and Dr Martin Neil - world-leading authorities on software engineering. Participants will also receive a free 30-day trial of the software and models.

If you have any questions about who should attend please call us.

We look forward to making your New Year resolution more than a forlorn wish.

Nic Birtles, Chairman

Those attending the seminar on 14 January 2004 will have the chance to be trained in the techniques which can then be used directly back in the workplace. Places for this event are limited so please register early to avoid disappointment.

Agena Limited 32-33 Hatton Garden London EC1N 8DL Tel: 020 7404 9722 Fax: 020 7404 9723